

Community-Based Organizations

Students can identify in the application up to 3 Community-Based Organizations that have helped them with the application process.

This information is shared with the colleges to which a student applies.

The screenshot shows the 'Common App' interface. The left sidebar is titled 'Common Application' and includes sections for Profile, Family, Education (highlighted), Testing, Activities, Writing, and Courses & Grades. The main content area is titled 'Education' and contains a list of school-related items, each with a green checkmark: Current or Most Recent Secondary School, Other Secondary Schools, Colleges & Universities, Grades, Current or Most Recent Year Courses, and Honors. Below this list is a section for 'Community-Based Organizations'. It includes a text prompt: 'Indicate the number of community programs or organizations that have provided you with free assistance in your application process. *'. A dropdown menu shows the number '1'. Below that is another dropdown menu titled 'Organization from which you received the most help *'. The dropdown menu is open, showing a search bar and a list of organizations: Say Yes to Education, ScholarMatch (highlighted in blue), Schuler Scholars, Scripps College Academy, SEO Scholars (Sponsors for Educational Opportunity), Service to School, and South Asian Youth Action (SAYA). A green arrow points to the 'ScholarMatch' option.
